

The People's Press.

Devoted to Politics, Literature, Agriculture, the Markets and General Information.

VOL. XXXVI.

SALEM, N. C., THURSDAY, AUGUST 2, 1888.

JOB PRINTING

THE PRESS JOB DEPARTMENT

Is supplied with all necessary material, and is fully prepared to do work with

NEATNESS, DISPATCH,

AND AT THE

VERY LOWEST PRICES

Be sure to give us a trial before contracting with anyone else.

NO. 31.

More than a million men are employed in the various railway lines in the United States.A total of 600 recent boiler explosions in the New England States all but three were traced directly back to the engineer's carelessness.Professor G. E. Morrow, of Yale, thinks that a larger percentage of young men can make a fair success at farming than those who engage in professional, commercial manufacturing or speculative businesses of any kind.The King of Greece recently unveiled a monument in a lofty dell in the hills north of Amphissa in memory of Ulysses Aethon, who, at the head of a few men, beat the dodos against the French legies in the war of Greecian independence.The English sparrow has now got almost as bad a name home as in this country. The damage which he causes to the arms of England has been estimated at $1,000,000, and a reward of six cents a dozen has been offered in some parts of the country for heads or eggs.The Topeka Journal says that if the cattle of Kansas were formed in a single line they would reach from Atchison to New York. So that just as the leading steer was looming up in the neighborhood of Central Park the last calf would be galloping off the Missouri River Bridge.The Turkish Government had a suspicion that Russian pilgrims, who have been arriving in great numbers at the monasteries at Athos and Mount Athos, were really come to spy out the country, and it gave orders that the pilgrims be closely watched and hustled along as speedily as possible.The Supreme Court of Michigan has just affirmed the decision of a lower one, made in the face of a precedent, that a child of four years cannot be visited with the contingent negligence of its parents, and that, consequently, the railway which took off its small leg must pay the whole damages allowed by the jury.Take the poorest and most wretched-looking hamlet in America," says a Detroit Free Press man who has made the tour, "and run it with dogs and beggars, turn it with 50,000 rats and smells and two dirty hotels, and you have something to compare with one of the beautiful Italian villages some of our folks rave over."They handle wheat with wonderful celerity at Duluth, Minn. The other day the steamer Montana Eagle made fast to the dock there, directed six receiving points, took on 22,000 bushels of wheat, and was off with her load in fifty-one minutes. This is claimed to be the fastest job of loading wheat on record."Starway brain" is a term applied by Dr. Thompson, the eminent physician to a neurosis or general derangement of the nerves produced by a shock received by the head on a railway car.
In the particular case described no wound was received, and consciousness was preserved at the time of the injury. Afterward the patient became melancholic and complained of insomnia, headache, spinal pain, weariness, and failure of appetite. A hygienic and palliative treatment was given.Miss Graham was not a very attractive looking woman, nor was she considered a very amiable one. She lived quite alone by herself in a tiny house on the outskirts of the town.
She had no maid, no tea-set, and caring to make acquaintances. She often sat alone in her room, and occasionally wrote to her old minister called upon her. He always spoke of her as "Miss Graham." The few neighbors called her "Miss Jane" in a distant sort of manner, but the aisy boys and girls called her "Dolly." Miss Jane was not the sort of girl who was easily won over to anything.That afternoon it snowed and continued to do so all night. Miss Jane had had the blackest of black hair in her girlhood, and that often turned to grey at the temples. She could see out of the window where she usually watched for "that boy" to go by.They are a rich, brown tint and a natural color, and the boy, with which the Japanese always improve their fish and birds, might be used in the same way in other countries. Japanese soy is the foundation of Worcester sauce and is much better before it is charged with the spices and vinegar that are added to
it. It is a good condiment.One little bulb, however, sprouts and a beautiful bluish, but I wanted to be on the safe side."—Sutro's.

Advised His Mother.

A Howard street mother has considered trouble with a little incorrigible, and is about to take extreme depravity,
and set it exceedingly bright.

Editor.—"Yes."

Tramp.—"Well, I'm Jim!"

Recalling Past Favors.

Tramp (to Editor, who is hurrying
out): "I'll give you a honest one, a
little piece." I gave you a honest one.

Editor.—"What do you mean, fellow?"

Tramp.—"Don't you remember that
burglary by Jim Crackitt and his pals
in a recent number?"

Editor.—"Yes."

Tramp.—"Well, I'm Jim!"

Recalling Past Favors.

Tramp (to Editor, who is hurrying
out): "I'll give you a honest one, a
little piece." I gave you a honest one.

Editor.—"What do you mean, fellow?"

Tramp.—"Don't you remember that
burglary by Jim Crackitt and his pals
in a recent number?"

Editor.—"Yes."

Tramp.—"Well, I'm Jim!"

Recalling Past Favors.

Tramp (to Editor, who is hurrying
out): "I'll give you a honest one, a
little piece." I gave you a honest one.

Editor.—"What do you mean, fellow?"

Tramp.—"Don't you remember that
burglary by Jim Crackitt and his pals
in a recent number?"

Editor.—"Yes."

Tramp.—"Well, I'm Jim!"

Recalling Past Favors.

Tramp (to Editor, who is hurrying
out): "I'll give you a honest one, a
little piece." I gave you a honest one.

Editor.—"What do you mean, fellow?"

Tramp.—"Don't you remember that
burglary by Jim Crackitt and his pals
in a recent number?"

Editor.—"Yes."

Tramp.—"Well, I'm Jim!"

Recalling Past Favors.

Tramp (to Editor, who is hurrying
out): "I'll give you a honest one, a
little piece." I gave you a honest one.

Editor.—"What do you mean, fellow?"

Tramp.—"Don't you remember that
burglary by Jim Crackitt and his pals
in a recent number?"

Editor.—"Yes."

Tramp.—"Well, I'm Jim!"

Recalling Past Favors.

Tramp (to Editor, who is hurrying
out): "I'll give you a honest one, a
little piece." I gave you a honest one.

Editor.—"What do you mean, fellow?"

Tramp.—"Don't you remember that
burglary by Jim Crackitt and his pals
in a recent number?"

Editor.—"Yes."

Tramp.—"Well, I'm Jim!"

Recalling Past Favors.

Tramp (to Editor, who is hurrying
out): "I'll give you a honest one, a
little piece." I gave you a honest one.

Editor.—"What do you mean, fellow?"

Tramp.—"Don't you remember that
burglary by Jim Crackitt and his pals
in a recent number?"

Editor.—"Yes."

Tramp.—"Well, I'm Jim!"

Recalling Past Favors.

Tramp (to Editor, who is hurrying
out): "I'll give you a honest one, a
little piece." I gave you a honest one.

Editor.—"What do you mean, fellow?"

Tramp.—"Don't you remember that
burglary by Jim Crackitt and his pals
in a recent number?"

Editor.—"Yes."

Tramp.—"Well, I'm Jim!"

Recalling Past Favors.

Tramp (to Editor, who is hurrying
out): "I'll give you a honest one, a
little piece." I gave you a honest one.

Editor.—"What do you mean, fellow?"

Tramp.—"Don't you remember that
burglary by Jim Crackitt and his pals
in a recent number?"

Editor.—"Yes."

Tramp.—"Well, I'm Jim!"

Recalling Past Favors.

Tramp (to Editor, who is hurrying
out): "I'll give you a honest one, a
little piece." I gave you a honest one.

Editor.—"What do you mean, fellow?"

Tramp.—"Don't you remember that
burglary by Jim Crackitt and his pals
in a recent number?"

Editor.—"Yes."

Tramp.—"Well, I'm Jim!"

Recalling Past Favors.

Tramp (to Editor, who is hurrying
out): "I'll give you a honest one, a
little piece." I gave you a honest one.

Editor.—"What do you mean, fellow?"

Tramp.—"Don't you remember that
burglary by Jim Crackitt and his pals
in a recent number?"

Editor.—"Yes."

Tramp.—"Well, I'm Jim!"

Recalling Past Favors.

Tramp (to Editor, who is hurrying
out): "I'll give you a honest one, a
little piece." I gave you a honest one.

Editor.—"What do you mean, fellow?"

Tramp.—"Don't you remember that
burglary by Jim Crackitt and his pals
in a recent number?"

Editor.—"Yes."

Tramp.—"Well, I'm Jim!"

Recalling Past Favors.

Tramp (to Editor, who is hurrying
out): "I'll give you a honest one, a
little piece." I gave you a honest one.

Editor.—"What do you mean, fellow?"

Tramp.—"Don't you remember that
burglary by Jim Crackitt and his pals
in a recent number?"

Editor.—"Yes."

Tramp.—"Well, I'm Jim!"

Recalling Past Favors.

Tramp (to Editor, who is hurrying
out): "I'll give you a honest one, a
little piece." I gave you a honest one.

Editor.—"What do you mean, fellow?"

Tramp.—"Don't you remember that
burglary by Jim Crackitt and his pals
in a recent number?"

Editor.—"Yes."

Tramp.—"Well, I'm Jim!"

Recalling Past Favors.

Tramp (to Editor, who is hurrying
out): "I'll give you a honest one, a
little piece." I gave you a honest one.

Editor.—"What do you mean, fellow?"

Tramp.—"Don't you remember that
burglary by Jim Crackitt and his pals
in a recent number?"

Editor.—"Yes."

Tramp.—"Well, I'm Jim!"

Recalling Past Favors.

Tramp (to Editor, who is hurrying
out): "I'll give you a honest one, a
little piece." I gave you a honest one.

Editor.—"What do you mean, fellow?"

Tramp.—"Don't you remember that
burglary by Jim Crackitt and his pals
in a recent number?"

Editor.—"Yes."

Tramp.—"Well, I'm Jim!"

Recalling Past Favors.

Tramp (to Editor, who is hurrying
out): "I'll give you a honest one, a
little piece." I gave you a honest one.

Editor.—"What do you mean, fellow?"

Tramp.—"Don't you remember that
burglary by Jim Crackitt and his pals
in a recent number?"

Editor.—"Yes."

Tramp.—"Well, I'm Jim!"

Recalling Past Favors.

Tramp (to Editor, who is hurrying
out): "I'll give you a honest one, a
little piece." I gave you a honest one.

Editor.—"What do you mean, fellow?"

Tramp.—"Don't you remember that
burglary by Jim Crackitt and his pals
in a recent number?"

Editor.—"Yes."

Tramp.—"Well, I'm Jim!"

Recalling Past Favors.

Tramp (to Editor, who is hurrying
out): "I'll give you a honest one, a
little piece." I gave you a honest one.

Editor.—"What do you mean, fellow?"

Tramp.—"Don't you remember that
burglary by Jim Crackitt and his pals
in a recent number?"

Editor.—"Yes."

Tramp.—"Well, I'm Jim!"

Recalling Past Favors.

Tramp (to Editor, who is hurrying
out): "I'll give you a honest one, a
little piece." I gave you a honest one.

Editor.—"What do you mean, fellow?"

Tramp.—"Don't you remember that
burglary by Jim Crackitt and his pals
in a recent number?"

The People's Press.

SALEM, N.C.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 2, 1888.

[Entered as second class matter at Post Office at Salem, N.C.]

THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

ELECTION, TUESDAY, November 6th.

NATIONAL TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT:
GROVER CLEVELAND,
of New York.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT:
ALLEN G. THURMAN,
of Ohio.

Electoral Ticket.

FOR ELECTORS—
AT LARGE:
A. M. WADDELL, of New Haven,
FRED. N. STRUDWICK, of Orange,
DISTRICT ELECTORS:

1ST DIST.—EDWARD WOODWARD of Wilson.
2ND DIST.—CHARLES E. AYCOCK, of Wayne.
4TH DIST.—ED. W. POUL of Johnston.
5TH DIST.—JOHN H. BROWN, of May.
6TH DIST.—J. P. BURBERT of Stanly.
7TH DIST.—L. C. CALDWELL of Iredell.
8TH DIST.—THOS. M. VANCE, of Caldwell.
9TH DIST.—

State Ticket.

FOR GOVERNOR:
DANIEL G. FOWLE of Wake.

FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR:
THOMAS M. HOLT, of Alamance.

FOR SECRETARY OF STATE:
WILLIAM L. SAWYER, of Wake.

FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL:
DONALD W. BAIN, of Wake.

FOR AUDITOR:
GEORGE P. DAVIDSON, of Buncombe.

FOR ASSOCIATE JUSTICE SUPREME COURT:
[To fill vacancy caused by Judge Ashe.]

JOSEPH J. DAVIS, of Franklin.
FOR ASSOCIATE JUSTICE SUPREME COURT:
[Under Amendment to the Constitution.]

JAMES E. SHEPHERD, of Beaufort.
ALPHONSO C. AVERY, of Burke.

Congressional Ticket:

5TH DIST.—T. M. MOREHEAD, of Guilford.

Appointments for Hon. A. M. Waddell.

Hon. A. M. Waddell, Democratic candidate for Presidential Elector at Large, will address the people upon the issues of the campaign at the following times and places:

Yadkinville, Saturday, Aug. 11.
Dobson, Monday, Aug. 13.

Walnut Cove, Tuesday, Aug. 14.
Greensboro, Wednesday, Aug. 15.
Lexington, Thursday, Aug. 16.
Mocksville, Friday, Aug. 17.

Ninety deaths from cholera occurred in Hong Kong during one week in July.

The annual meeting of the North Carolina Tobacco Association takes place at Morehead City, August 17th.

Anarchist Cleburn has given the whole Chicago dynamite plot away and the conspirators who planned the destruction of the officers of the law who secured the punishment of the Haymarket murderers have all been indicted.

Hon. J. M. Brower—There seems to be trouble in the Republican camp because Brower voted with the Democrats for the Mills bill. At a joint meeting of the Republican leaders of this District held in Greensboro last week, resolutions were passed condemning Brower for his Democratic proclivities.

CONGRESS.

The naval appropriation bill was considered in the Senate on the 24th, and several important amendments were reported, but without disposing of it the bill went over until the next day; the Oklahoma Territory bill was debated.

The naval appropriation bill was considered in the Senate on the 25th, and after the adoption of several amendments the bill was passed; House bill appropriating $75,000 for a public building at Statesville, N. C., was taken from the calendar and passed; as were all of the private pension bills; the latter number 127, and were disposed of in fifty minutes; in the House a number of private bills were passed, but no business of public interest was transacted. —The House Committee on Agriculture have decided to report a bill relative to the sale, manufacture and transportation of adulterous foods, drinks and drugs.

The army appropriation bill was further considered in the Senate on the 26th, and after considerable debate was passed; the fisheries treaty was then considered in open session and debated until adjourned; two Presidential vetoes were read and referred; the bill to provide for post-office buildings was considered in the House during the morning hour, after which the Oklahoma bill was debated, and notice given that it would be pressed to a final vote today. —The outlook for an extended session of Congress is not so threatening as it was supposed to be, in consequence of the Republican conference decision, and it is now thought that an adjournment will be reached in six or seven weeks.

In Senate on the 27th, the civil appropriation bills were considered, and Fisheries treaty passed over; House considered private pension bills.

The Senate on the 28th was engaged principally in the consideration of the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill, and all the amendments proposed by the committee on appropriations were agreed to; notice was given that some three or four amendments would be offered on Monday; general appropriations bills were considered in the House, and Senate bill for the erection of a public building at Charlotte, N. C., was passed, with an amendment reducing the cost from $175,000 to $85,000. —The House committee on banking and currency have ordered a favorable report on Senate bill to reimburse depositors of the Freedmen's Bank.

—Wilmington Star Outlines.

Look at the Difference.
N. Y. Herald.

The politics of the two parties can be simply stated. If you want to be taxed at you were during the war; if you think it a good thing to work hard all the year and then to have the government come to you and say, "I only need ten dollars to pay expenses, but I'm going to take twenty, and Congress will easily find some means to squander the extra ten;" if you want the people divided up into two classes, the aristocratic, capitalist class, which absorbs everybody's business and swallows everybody's profits, and a poor class to do the drudgery with any hope of ever bettering their condition, then you will do right to vote the Republican ticket. That party is a party with a tendency, and it is a tendency toward an aristocracy, a tendency to crowd the laborer to the wall and to pin him there forever. If that is your idea of free institutions all right, go ahead. You must do your own business in your own way.

The Democratic policy is to reduce taxes to the low water mark of federal economy. When the government wants money let it ask for it, and if the people think the object is a worthy one they will pay up; but if they don't think so they won't pay up. Neither the President nor Congress has the right to lean against a treasury with one hundred millions of the people's money in it, and then do as it pleases, with the classic remark, "D— in the public. No, the public runs this country, President, Congress and the whole concern, and it hasn't resigned, and doesn't propose to.

If the taxes are too high lower them. In doing this, if you are compelled to take the tax off of clothing or off of whiskey, the party that chooses the clothing and the party that chooses the whiskey is the people. If it is better to have an overcoat than a glass of rum, then you know how to vote, but if you have any doubt whatever, look into the faces of your wife and children and that ought to settle it.

Yes, it's to be a campaign of brains, and if the Democrats will feed the people with facts they need have no fear of results.

The chairman of the national Democratic committee has appointed the following gentlemen as a campaign committee: Wm. L. Scott, of Pennsylvania; Arthur P. Gorham, of Maryland; Matt. W. Ransom, of North Carolina; Calvin S. Brice, Ohio; John S. Barber, Virginia; Herman Olbrichs, of New York; Miles Ross, of New Jersey; Arthur Sewall, of Maine, and E. M. Phelps, of Illinois.

Murder and Lynching.
WASHINGTON, Dakota, July 27.—Deputy Sheriff L. S. Elmer murdered Miss Mollie Kerbell Wednesday night under circumstances of peculiar atrocious. She was a domestic in the service of the sheriff and had been entrusted with the management of the household during the temporary absence of the family. She had just given the prisoners their supper when Elmer, who was boarding in the house, asked her if she intended going out that evening. She replied that she would if she chose, whereupon Elmer shot her, causing instant death.

A masked mob of 100 men overpowered Sheriff Miller and his deputy and took the murderer out and hanged him.

No Soap Trust Wanted.
NEW YORK, July 30.—The report telegraphed from Pittsburgh that the soap manufacturers of that city are perfecting the organization of a soap trust, a preliminary step having been taken by the manufacturer of the soap used in the manufacture of the U. S. Benevolent Fraternity, have been arrested on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the state of $50,000.

Thousands Saw the Game.
ROCHESTER, July 30.—The third week of July saw the attendance of 12,000 persons at the opening ball game of the Rochester Americans, and another 20,000 at the second. The attendance was 10,000 at the third, and another 15,000 at the fourth. The attendance was 12,000 at the fifth, and another 15,000 at the sixth. The attendance was 10,000 at the seventh, and another 15,000 at the eighth. The attendance was 12,000 at the ninth, and another 15,000 at the tenth. The attendance was 10,000 at the eleventh, and another 15,000 at the twelfth. The attendance was 12,000 at the thirteenth, and another 15,000 at the fourteenth. The attendance was 10,000 at the fifteenth, and another 15,000 at the sixteenth. The attendance was 12,000 at the seventeenth, and another 15,000 at the eighteenth. The attendance was 10,000 at the nineteenth, and another 15,000 at the twentieth. The attendance was 12,000 at the twentieth, and another 15,000 at the twenty-first. The attendance was 10,000 at the twenty-second, and another 15,000 at the twenty-third. The attendance was 12,000 at the twenty-fourth, and another 15,000 at the twenty-fifth. The attendance was 10,000 at the twenty-sixth, and another 15,000 at the twenty-seventh. The attendance was 12,000 at the twenty-eighth, and another 15,000 at the twenty-ninth. The attendance was 10,000 at the twentieth, and another 15,000 at the thirty-first. The attendance was 12,000 at the thirty-second, and another 15,000 at the thirty-third. The attendance was 10,000 at the thirty-fourth, and another 15,000 at the thirty-fifth. The attendance was 12,000 at the thirty-sixth, and another 15,000 at the thirty-seventh. The attendance was 10,000 at the thirty-eighth, and another 15,000 at the thirty-ninth. The attendance was 12,000 at the thirty-ninth, and another 15,000 at the forty-first. The attendance was 10,000 at the forty-second, and another 15,000 at the forty-third. The attendance was 12,000 at the forty-third, and another 15,000 at the forty-fourth. The attendance was 10,000 at the forty-fourth, and another 15,000 at the forty-fifth. The attendance was 12,000 at the forty-fifth, and another 15,000 at the forty-sixth. The attendance was 10,000 at the forty-sixth, and another 15,000 at the forty-seventh. The attendance was 12,000 at the forty-seventh, and another 15,000 at the forty-eighth. The attendance was 10,000 at the forty-eighth, and another 15,000 at the forty-ninth. The attendance was 12,000 at the forty-ninth, and another 15,000 at the fifty-first. The attendance was 10,000 at the fifty-first, and another 15,000 at the fifty-second. The attendance was 12,000 at the fifty-second, and another 15,000 at the fifty-third. The attendance was 10,000 at the fifty-third, and another 15,000 at the fifty-fourth. The attendance was 12,000 at the fifty-fourth, and another 15,000 at the fifty-fifth. The attendance was 10,000 at the fifty-fifth, and another 15,000 at the fifty-sixth. The attendance was 12,000 at the fifty-sixth, and another 15,000 at the fifty-seventh. The attendance was 10,000 at the fifty-seventh, and another 15,000 at the fifty-eighth. The attendance was 12,000 at the fifty-eighth, and another 15,000 at the fifty-ninth. The attendance was 10,000 at the fifty-ninth, and another 15,000 at the sixty-first. The attendance was 12,000 at the sixty-first, and another 15,000 at the sixty-second. The attendance was 10,000 at the sixty-second, and another 15,000 at the sixty-third. The attendance was 12,000 at the sixty-third, and another 15,000 at the sixty-fourth. The attendance was 10,000 at the sixty-fourth, and another 15,000 at the sixty-fifth. The attendance was 12,000 at the sixty-fifth, and another 15,000 at the sixty-sixth. The attendance was 10,000 at the sixty-sixth, and another 15,000 at the sixty-seventh. The attendance was 12,000 at the sixty-seventh, and another 15,000 at the sixty-eighth. The attendance was 10,000 at the sixty-eighth, and another 15,000 at the sixty-ninth. The attendance was 12,000 at the sixty-ninth, and another 15,000 at the seventy-first. The attendance was 10,000 at the seventy-first, and another 15,000 at the seventy-second. The attendance was 12,000 at the seventy-second, and another 15,000 at the seventy-third. The attendance was 10,000 at the seventy-third, and another 15,000 at the seventy-fourth. The attendance was 12,000 at the seventy-fourth, and another 15,000 at the seventy-fifth. The attendance was 10,000 at the seventy-fifth, and another 15,000 at the seventy-sixth. The attendance was 12,000 at the seventy-sixth, and another 15,000 at the seventy-seventh. The attendance was 10,000 at the seventy-seventh, and another 15,000 at the seventy-eighth. The attendance was 12,000 at the seventy-eighth, and another 15,000 at the seventy-ninth. The attendance was 10,000 at the seventy-ninth, and another 15,000 at the eighty-first. The attendance was 12,000 at the eighty-first, and another 15,000 at the eighty-second. The attendance was 10,000 at the eighty-second, and another 15,000 at the eighty-third. The attendance was 12,000 at the eighty-third, and another 15,000 at the eighty-fourth. The attendance was 10,000 at the eighty-fourth, and another 15,000 at the eighty-fifth. The attendance was 12,000 at the eighty-fifth, and another 15,000 at the eighty-sixth. The attendance was 10,000 at the eighty-sixth, and another 15,000 at the eighty-seventh. The attendance was 12,000 at the eighty-seventh, and another 15,000 at the eighty-eighth. The attendance was 10,000 at the eighty-eighth, and another 15,000 at the eighty-ninth. The attendance was 12,000 at the eighty-ninth, and another 15,000 at the ninety-first. The attendance was 10,000 at the ninety-first, and another 15,000 at the ninety-second. The attendance was 12,000 at the ninety-second, and another 15,000 at the ninety-third. The attendance was 10,000 at the ninety-third, and another 15,000 at the ninety-fourth. The attendance was 12,000 at the ninety-fourth, and another 15,000 at the ninety-fifth. The attendance was 10,000 at the ninety-fifth, and another 15,000 at the ninety-sixth. The attendance was 12,000 at the ninety-sixth, and another 15,000 at the ninety-seventh. The attendance was 10,000 at the ninety-seventh, and another 15,000 at the ninety-eighth. The attendance was 12,000 at the ninety-eighth, and another 15,000 at the ninety-ninth. The attendance was 10,000 at the ninety-ninth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundredth. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundredth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-first. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-first, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-second. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-second, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-third. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-third, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-fourth. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-fourth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-fifth. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-fifth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-sixth. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-sixth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-seventh. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-seventh, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-eighth. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-eighth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-ninth. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-ninth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-tenth. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-tenth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-eleventh. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-eleventh, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-twelfth. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-twelfth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-thirteenth. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-thirteenth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-fourteenth. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-fourteenth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-fifteenth. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-fifteenth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-sixteenth. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-sixteenth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-seventeenth. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-seventeenth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-eighteenth. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-eighteenth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-nineteenth. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-nineteenth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-twentieth. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-twentieth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-twenty-first. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-twenty-first, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-twenty-second. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-twenty-second, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-twenty-third. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-twenty-third, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-twenty-fourth. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-twenty-fourth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-twenty-fifth. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-twenty-fifth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-twenty-sixth. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-twenty-sixth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-twenty-seventh. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-twenty-seventh, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-twenty-eighth. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-twenty-eighth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-twenty-ninth. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-twenty-ninth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-first. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-first, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-second. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-second, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-third. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-third, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-fourth. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-fourth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-fifth. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-fifth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-sixth. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-sixth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-seventh. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-seventh, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-eighth. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-eighth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-ninth. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-ninth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-tenth. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-tenth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-eleventh. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-eleventh, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-twelfth. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-twelfth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-thirteenth. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-thirteenth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-fourth. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-fourth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-fifth. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-fifth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-sixth. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-sixth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-seventh. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-seventh, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-eighth. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-eighth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-ninth. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-ninth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-tenth. The attendance was 10,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-tenth, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-eleventh. The attendance was 12,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-eleventh, and another 15,000 at the one-hundred-thirty-twelfth. The attendance was 10,000 at the one

The People's Press.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 2, 1888.

LOCAL ITEMS.

The wheat crop, we learn, is below an average.

Miss Vest and Jones, of the Academy, have gone to Danbury.

There are now about $3,000 deposited in the Forsyth Five Cents Savings Bank.

The late rain has improved the appearance of vegetation and the growing crops.

Miss Josie Day, of Warrenton, Va., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Dr. Scott, of this place.

Defiance is the name of a new post office at Pilot Mountain, is at home again.

Mrs. C. R. Welfare and child are spending some time with relatives in Clemmons village.

Most all the parties from this place who visited Wilmington and Wrightsville, have returned.

Rev. Allison Long of Pennsylvania is visiting relatives and friends in Davidson county.

Silas ("Bud") Riggs served out his time in the penitentiary and is home again in Winston.

M. N. Vogler left Monday morning for Rockland, Maine, and will not return alone, it is said.

Wm. McAden, of Winston, aged 12 or 15 years, was taken to the Insane Asylum at Morganton, August 23d.

Next week work will be commenced on the parsonage of the Reformed church near Pilgrim, Davidson county.

A new Methodist church has been erected in the northern part of Winston, in the locality formerly known as Liberty.

W. A. Baity of the Bee Hive has just returned from New York, where he bought a large stock of goods. July 19-1f.

H. C. Rothrock, of Lexington, has been promoted from a $1,000 to a $1,300 clerkship in the Post Office Department at Washington.

Pilot Mountain Baptist Association is now in session at Westfield, Stokes county.

The protracted meeting at New Friendship Baptist Church has been postponed. Rev. Henry Sheets will preach at New Friendship Church next Sunday.

The Republican says: Mayor Fogle of Salem, has made and presented to the new Baptist church at Waughtown an elegant pulpit.

Fire Works.—On next Tuesday night, in the rear of the Presbyterian church site, Winston, the fire works exhibition will take place.

A number of ladies and gentlemen had a very pleasant time at Dr. Baldwin's pond one evening last week, boating, fishing, shooting, &c.

The Wilmington papers notice the death of Mrs. Bishop Watson of Wilmington. Mrs. Watson had many friends here, who deeply sympathize with the bereaved family.

The watermelon and cantelope crop notwithstanding the dry weather, is large; the market is fully supplied, and melons selling at low figures.

Mathias Lopp, who lives near the Poor House in Davidson county, had his barn with two good horses and a crop of wheat burnt by lightning last Saturday night.

Mrs. Augustus Wolfe, of Bethlehem and her son, Rev. Edward Wolfe, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are the guests of Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Clewell. Mrs. Wolfe is Mrs. Clewell's mother.

Look out for the August meetings. The English astronomer, Denning, reports having seen a number of them already. They can be seen now, though the fixed time is about August 10th.

The Bee Hive buys all kinds of dried fruit at market prices, and sells goods at popular Bee Hive prices. July 19-1f.

At the Friends Quarterly meeting at Deep River on Sunday, 28th ult., Thomas Anderson and Thomas Inman were recognized as ministers of the gospel in the Society and so recorded.—Enterprise.

A Moravian Chapel will be built in the beautiful woodland reservation, in the western part of Winston.

Messrs. Fogle Bros. have the contract to build the church.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Wurtschke have returned home from "Carolina Beach," having enjoyed themselves very much. Prof. Wurtschke says "Carolina Beach" is one of the finest he has ever visited on the Atlantic coast.

Messrs. Foy & Duggins, editors of the Winston Advance, have purchased of J. H. Lindsay, his entire interest and good will in the Kershaw News and Farm, which paper will now be consolidated with the Advance.

The North Carolina Yearly Meeting of Friends will convene in High Point, on Wednesday before the second Sunday in August. The Annual Sabbath School Conference was held on Tuesday, August 1st.—Enterprise.

While getting off a straw stack, Jacob Hartman, of Davidson county, fell on a fence and injured himself dangerously. He is under the care of three physicians, but his recovery is a little doubtful. His injury is internal.

We have just received a large lot of Buist's fresh Turnip Seed, this year's crop. For sale at wholesale or retail by ASHCRAFT & OWENS, Druggists, Winston. July 12-1f.

CORRESPONDENCE.

For the Press.

Messrs. Editors:—Your correspondent attended the teachers' "Normal School" held in the Winston Grammar School buildings, and for one I think it one of the best that I have attended since the first held at Chapel Hill. Prof. Blair certainly deserves great credit for selecting such able instructors. Prof. Moses, of Raleigh, is an accomplished and scholarly gentleman. He was successful in bringing out answers from teachers, and insisting upon teachers cultivating the same spirit of promptness in their pupils. Simplicity in teaching was another prominent feature. Prof. Branson, of Athens, Ga., taught mathematics, showing himself at home with his subject. Prof. J. J. Blair's instruction in Drawing was very interesting to many country teachers, who have as yet never seen what can be done with chalk to interest children.

—We are pleased to note the enlargement of the Daily, as an evidence of prosperity. It is now a 24 column paper and it certainly merits the encouragement it is receiving. It is a credit to the towns, and we wish the enterprising editor, Mr. Foy, great future success.

—E. A. Pfohl who has been spending some time at Pilot Mountain, is at home again.

Mrs. C. R. Welfare and child are spending some time with relatives in Clemmons village.

—Most all the parties from this place who visited Wilmington and Wrightsville, have returned.

—Rev. Allison Long of Pennsylvania is visiting relatives and friends in Davidson county.

—Silas ("Bud") Riggs served out his time in the penitentiary and is home again in Winston.

—M. N. Vogler left Monday morning for Rockland, Maine, and will not return alone, it is said.

—Wm. McAden, of Winston, aged 12 or 15 years, was taken to the Insane Asylum at Morganton, August 23d.

—Rev. W. C. Norman, of Winston, will address the audience at the Masonic Pierce at Mocksville, August 23d.

—Next week work will be commenced on the parsonage of the Reformed church near Pilgrim, Davidson county.

—A new Methodist church has been erected in the northern part of Winston, in the locality formerly known as Liberty.

—W. A. Baity of the Bee Hive has just returned from New York, where he bought a large stock of goods. July 19-1f.

—H. C. Rothrock, of Lexington, has been promoted from a $1,000 to a $1,300 clerkship in the Post Office Department at Washington.

—Pilot Mountain Baptist Association is now in session at Westfield, Stokes county.

—The protracted meeting at New Friendship Baptist Church has been postponed. Rev. Henry Sheets will preach at New Friendship Church next Sunday.

—The Republican says: Mayor Fogle of Salem, has made and presented to the new Baptist church at Waughtown an elegant pulpit.

—Fire Works.—On next Tuesday night, in the rear of the Presbyterian church site, Winston, the fire works exhibition will take place.

—A number of ladies and gentlemen had a very pleasant time at Dr. Baldwin's pond one evening last week, boating, fishing, shooting, &c.

—The Wilmington papers notice the death of Mrs. Bishop Watson of Wilmington. Mrs. Watson had many friends here, who deeply sympathize with the bereaved family.

—The watermelon and cantelope crop notwithstanding the dry weather, is large; the market is fully supplied, and melons selling at low figures.

—Mathias Lopp, who lives near the Poor House in Davidson county, had his barn with two good horses and a crop of wheat burnt by lightning last Saturday night.

—Mrs. Augustus Wolfe, of Bethlehem and her son, Rev. Edward Wolfe, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are the guests of Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Clewell. Mrs. Wolfe is Mrs. Clewell's mother.

—Look out for the August meetings. The English astronomer, Denning, reports having seen a number of them already. They can be seen now, though the fixed time is about August 10th.

—The Bee Hive buys all kinds of dried fruit at market prices, and sells goods at popular Bee Hive prices. July 19-1f.

—At the Friends Quarterly meeting at Deep River on Sunday, 28th ult., Thomas Anderson and Thomas Inman were recognized as ministers of the gospel in the Society and so recorded.—Enterprise.

—A Moravian Chapel will be built in the beautiful woodland reservation, in the western part of Winston.

Messrs. Fogle Bros. have the contract to build the church.

—Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Wurtschke have returned home from "Carolina Beach," having enjoyed themselves very much. Prof. Wurtschke says "Carolina Beach" is one of the finest he has ever visited on the Atlantic coast.

—Messrs. Foy & Duggins, editors of the Winston Advance, have purchased of J. H. Lindsay, his entire interest and good will in the Kershaw News and Farm, which paper will now be consolidated with the Advance.

—The North Carolina Yearly Meeting of Friends will convene in High Point, on Wednesday before the second Sunday in August. The Annual Sabbath School Conference was held on Tuesday, August 1st.—Enterprise.

—While getting off a straw stack, Jacob Hartman, of Davidson county, fell on a fence and injured himself dangerously. He is under the care of three physicians, but his recovery is a little doubtful. His injury is internal.

—We have just received a large lot of Buist's fresh Turnip Seed, this year's crop. For sale at wholesale or retail by ASHCRAFT & OWENS, Druggists, Winston. July 12-1f.

ITALIAN IMMIGRATION.

Starling Testimony of the Castle Garden Investigation.

GROSS VIOLATIONS OF LAW.

Testimony of a Recent Importation on the Wants and Expectations of His Countrymen—They do not Come to Citizens—Working for Seventy-Five Cents a Day.

Now, July 28.—The inquiry by the Congressional Committee into the evils of indiscriminate immigration to this country was yesterday resumed.

The first witness was Robert Marco, Superintendent of the Italian Immigration Society, who importuned the members of the contract laborers, who importuned victims to this country, and gave a list of them.

Witness said that last May twelve or fifteen immigrants from his country came over on the steamship Entilia of the Italian Immigration Society.

They were engaged by Angelo Leo and contracted to a contractor in St. Paul named Ungaro. Their pay was $25, but they were compelled to pay $65 to Ungaro. Mr. Marco said that he was a witness against the importation of contract laborers, but he said that he had never received any reply.

The evidence went to the effect that the immigrants had been required to pay a bonus of nearly $2 over and above the sum of $25, and that the men imported created some dissatisfaction.

Mr. Marco believes that there are at least 3,000 Italians out of work here.

When asked what wages the farm laborers in Italy of late receive, Mr. Marco said that the average wage of a day laborer is 30 cents a day and a gallon of wine.

"Do you know?" asked Congressman Ford, "that Italian women in this city are earning ordinary paids at 10 cents a dozen?"

He admitted that he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at 10 cents a day.

The witness was asked if he had heard of cases where Italian women were working at

A FIERCE CONTEST.

A FURIOUS BATTLE BETWEEN SHARKS AND ALLIGATORS.

The Ocean Bloodhounds Attack the "Gators." How the Bush was Avoided—Survivors Two Sharks and One Gator.

Last week, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, a contest was witnessed by a hunting party on the Indian River, Florida, that they describe as being exciting in the extreme. When asked at the time if sharks and crocodiles their attraction was suddenly attracted by a furious splashing and plunging in the water about a quarter of a mile from shore. Hastily pulling up their anchor they rowed out to investigate. On reaching the scene of disturbance they found to their amazement two or three alligators and one many "man-eating" shark engaged in a deadly fight. The muddled brutes were too frenzied with rage to notice the spectators and a good view was had of the affray.

The sharks, from appearances, had come from the Everglades and had taken them by surprise. Two of the latter had lost each in a foreleg. But they were all fighting furiously, snapping at the sharks with their ugly, wide opened jaws and using their tails to good advantage as possible. But they seemed desirous of getting away from the sharks. After the sharks had bitten and tired, they would permit the arrangement, an early breakfast of milk and biscuit should be taken and a start made.—American Magazine.

Nothing shows greater abjectness of spirit than that of a haughty dementor toward inferiors.

What we believe is right is more often so because it grinds our ax than otherwise.

A higher morality, like a higher intelligence, must be reached by slow growth.

Would you have others respect your opinions, hold and never disown them yourself?

Nothing shows greater abjectness of spirit than that of a haughty dementor toward inferiors.

Men love to hear of their power, but have an extreme disinclination to be told of a niggard in deeds.

Every great and commanding movement of the world is the triumph of enthusiasm.

All our actions take their hues from the complexion of the heart, as landscape scenes from the mind that moved further out into the river. However, the wondering spectators, who thought the "gators" were afraid of their opponents, soon saw that the saurians knew a thing or two. A few rods further on the opposite shoulder, a few feet less, and gliding on to th' th' the gators seemed to be perfectly satisfied.

The sharks were rather bothered by this state of affairs at first, as they preferred deep water, where they could dive and turn over, in order to get their crabs, big mouthed all the while, and the alligators fled. The latter, as soon as they reached this shallow place, remained quiet, only watching their foes, who swam round and round them, unable to make a decisive blow. The blood flowing from the wounded gators seemed to make the sharks feel crazy; however, and in a few moments they plunged in furiously, with wide open jaws.

The scene that ensued, say the eye-witnesses, was beyond all description. The two were about evenly matched, and each animal seemed to elect one particular antagonist and engage in a deadly combat.

The ocean bloodhounds endeavored to seize the forepaws of the "gators," while the gators, fully aware of the powerful jaws of their antagonists, carefully avoided their rushes, and, in turn, with awful vengeance, tried to secure a mouthful of shark's meat. Two were dashed at one another in the wildest kind of fury, their eyes gleaming with ferociousness and anger, while the tails of the saurians threshed the water into white foam in the wild sweeps at their foes. The crumpling of bones, the tearing, rending, and gnawing of flesh, the sundering of bones and raw meat from the wounded gators all combined to render the combat most exciting. The sharks seemed to be fully aware of the folly of trying to cut through the thick, mud-like entrails of their opponents, and, like valiant gladiators, they fought with their tails high, sixty feet wide and sixty feet high at the ridge pole, built on the sun-pan as the dwelling, but intended as a place of meeting, especially for the "old men" who rule each community.

They were valiantly fighting and issue all ordinances for the government of the people. If their decisions and ordinances happen to meet with the approval of a majority of those interested they are adopted. If they don't last longer for are promulgated the next day or so until the matter is settled or dropped.—Say's American Encyclopedie.

Queer Dwelling Houses.

The Gilbert Islander does not generally care to have any sides to his dwelling.

He sets up four corner posts, about six inches square, and covers them with a mass of palm leaves, which are then daubed at one another in the wildest kind of fury, their eyes gleaming with ferociousness and anger, while the tails of the saurians threshed the water into white foam in the wild sweeps at their foes. The crumpling of bones, the tearing, rending, and gnawing of flesh, the sundering of bones and raw meat from the wounded gators all combined to render the combat most exciting. The sharks seemed to be fully aware of the folly of trying to cut through the thick, mud-like entrails of their opponents, and, like valiant gladiators, they fought with their tails high, sixty feet wide and sixty feet high at the ridge pole, built on the sun-pan as the dwelling, but intended as a place of meeting, especially for the "old men" who rule each community.

They were valiantly fighting and issue all ordinances for the government of the people. If their decisions and ordinances happen to meet with the approval of a majority of those interested they are adopted. If they don't last longer for are promulgated the next day or so until the matter is settled or dropped.—Say's American Encyclopedie.

Queer Dwelling Houses.

The Gilbert Islander does not generally care to have any sides to his dwelling.

He sets up four corner posts, about six inches square, which are then daubed at one another in the wildest kind of fury, their eyes gleaming with ferociousness and anger, while the tails of the saurians threshed the water into white foam in the wild sweeps at their foes. The crumpling of bones, the tearing, rending, and gnawing of flesh, the sundering of bones and raw meat from the wounded gators all combined to render the combat most exciting. The sharks seemed to be fully aware of the folly of trying to cut through the thick, mud-like entrails of their opponents, and, like valiant gladiators, they fought with their tails high, sixty feet wide and sixty feet high at the ridge pole, built on the sun-pan as the dwelling, but intended as a place of meeting, especially for the "old men" who rule each community.

They were valiantly fighting and issue all ordinances for the government of the people. If their decisions and ordinances happen to meet with the approval of a majority of those interested they are adopted. If they don't last longer for are promulgated the next day or so until the matter is settled or dropped.—Say's American Encyclopedie.

Queer Dwelling Houses.

The Gilbert Islander does not generally care to have any sides to his dwelling.

He sets up four corner posts, about six inches square, which are then daubed at one another in the wildest kind of fury, their eyes gleaming with ferociousness and anger, while the tails of the saurians threshed the water into white foam in the wild sweeps at their foes. The crumpling of bones, the tearing, rending, and gnawing of flesh, the sundering of bones and raw meat from the wounded gators all combined to render the combat most exciting. The sharks seemed to be fully aware of the folly of trying to cut through the thick, mud-like entrails of their opponents, and, like valiant gladiators, they fought with their tails high, sixty feet wide and sixty feet high at the ridge pole, built on the sun-pan as the dwelling, but intended as a place of meeting, especially for the "old men" who rule each community.

They were valiantly fighting and issue all ordinances for the government of the people. If their decisions and ordinances happen to meet with the approval of a majority of those interested they are adopted. If they don't last longer for are promulgated the next day or so until the matter is settled or dropped.—Say's American Encyclopedie.

Queer Dwelling Houses.

The Gilbert Islander does not generally care to have any sides to his dwelling.

He sets up four corner posts, about six inches square, which are then daubed at one another in the wildest kind of fury, their eyes gleaming with ferociousness and anger, while the tails of the saurians threshed the water into white foam in the wild sweeps at their foes. The crumpling of bones, the tearing, rending, and gnawing of flesh, the sundering of bones and raw meat from the wounded gators all combined to render the combat most exciting. The sharks seemed to be fully aware of the folly of trying to cut through the thick, mud-like entrails of their opponents, and, like valiant gladiators, they fought with their tails high, sixty feet wide and sixty feet high at the ridge pole, built on the sun-pan as the dwelling, but intended as a place of meeting, especially for the "old men" who rule each community.

They were valiantly fighting and issue all ordinances for the government of the people. If their decisions and ordinances happen to meet with the approval of a majority of those interested they are adopted. If they don't last longer for are promulgated the next day or so until the matter is settled or dropped.—Say's American Encyclopedie.

Queer Dwelling Houses.

The Gilbert Islander does not generally care to have any sides to his dwelling.

He sets up four corner posts, about six inches square, which are then daubed at one another in the wildest kind of fury, their eyes gleaming with ferociousness and anger, while the tails of the saurians threshed the water into white foam in the wild sweeps at their foes. The crumpling of bones, the tearing, rending, and gnawing of flesh, the sundering of bones and raw meat from the wounded gators all combined to render the combat most exciting. The sharks seemed to be fully aware of the folly of trying to cut through the thick, mud-like entrails of their opponents, and, like valiant gladiators, they fought with their tails high, sixty feet wide and sixty feet high at the ridge pole, built on the sun-pan as the dwelling, but intended as a place of meeting, especially for the "old men" who rule each community.

They were valiantly fighting and issue all ordinances for the government of the people. If their decisions and ordinances happen to meet with the approval of a majority of those interested they are adopted. If they don't last longer for are promulgated the next day or so until the matter is settled or dropped.—Say's American Encyclopedie.

Queer Dwelling Houses.

The Gilbert Islander does not generally care to have any sides to his dwelling.

He sets up four corner posts, about six inches square, which are then daubed at one another in the wildest kind of fury, their eyes gleaming with ferociousness and anger, while the tails of the saurians threshed the water into white foam in the wild sweeps at their foes. The crumpling of bones, the tearing, rending, and gnawing of flesh, the sundering of bones and raw meat from the wounded gators all combined to render the combat most exciting. The sharks seemed to be fully aware of the folly of trying to cut through the thick, mud-like entrails of their opponents, and, like valiant gladiators, they fought with their tails high, sixty feet wide and sixty feet high at the ridge pole, built on the sun-pan as the dwelling, but intended as a place of meeting, especially for the "old men" who rule each community.

They were valiantly fighting and issue all ordinances for the government of the people. If their decisions and ordinances happen to meet with the approval of a majority of those interested they are adopted. If they don't last longer for are promulgated the next day or so until the matter is settled or dropped.—Say's American Encyclopedie.

Queer Dwelling Houses.

The Gilbert Islander does not generally care to have any sides to his dwelling.

He sets up four corner posts, about six inches square, which are then daubed at one another in the wildest kind of fury, their eyes gleaming with ferociousness and anger, while the tails of the saurians threshed the water into white foam in the wild sweeps at their foes. The crumpling of bones, the tearing, rending, and gnawing of flesh, the sundering of bones and raw meat from the wounded gators all combined to render the combat most exciting. The sharks seemed to be fully aware of the folly of trying to cut through the thick, mud-like entrails of their opponents, and, like valiant gladiators, they fought with their tails high, sixty feet wide and sixty feet high at the ridge pole, built on the sun-pan as the dwelling, but intended as a place of meeting, especially for the "old men" who rule each community.

They were valiantly fighting and issue all ordinances for the government of the people. If their decisions and ordinances happen to meet with the approval of a majority of those interested they are adopted. If they don't last longer for are promulgated the next day or so until the matter is settled or dropped.—Say's American Encyclopedie.

Queer Dwelling Houses.

The Gilbert Islander does not generally care to have any sides to his dwelling.

He sets up four corner posts, about six inches square, which are then daubed at one another in the wildest kind of fury, their eyes gleaming with ferociousness and anger, while the tails of the saurians threshed the water into white foam in the wild sweeps at their foes. The crumpling of bones, the tearing, rending, and gnawing of flesh, the sundering of bones and raw meat from the wounded gators all combined to render the combat most exciting. The sharks seemed to be fully aware of the folly of trying to cut through the thick, mud-like entrails of their opponents, and, like valiant gladiators, they fought with their tails high, sixty feet wide and sixty feet high at the ridge pole, built on the sun-pan as the dwelling, but intended as a place of meeting, especially for the "old men" who rule each community.

They were valiantly fighting and issue all ordinances for the government of the people. If their decisions and ordinances happen to meet with the approval of a majority of those interested they are adopted. If they don't last longer for are promulgated the next day or so until the matter is settled or dropped.—Say's American Encyclopedie.

Queer Dwelling Houses.

The Gilbert Islander does not generally care to have any sides to his dwelling.

He sets up four corner posts, about six inches square, which are then daubed at one another in the wildest kind of fury, their eyes gleaming with ferociousness and anger, while the tails of the saurians threshed the water into white foam in the wild sweeps at their foes. The crumpling of bones, the tearing, rending, and gnawing of flesh, the sundering of bones and raw meat from the wounded gators all combined to render the combat most exciting. The sharks seemed to be fully aware of the folly of trying to cut through the thick, mud-like entrails of their opponents, and, like valiant gladiators, they fought with their tails high, sixty feet wide and sixty feet high at the ridge pole, built on the sun-pan as the dwelling, but intended as a place of meeting, especially for the "old men" who rule each community.

They were valiantly fighting and issue all ordinances for the government of the people. If their decisions and ordinances happen to meet with the approval of a majority of those interested they are adopted. If they don't last longer for are promulgated the next day or so until the matter is settled or dropped.—Say's American Encyclopedie.

Queer Dwelling Houses.

The Gilbert Islander does not generally care to have any sides to his dwelling.

He sets up four corner posts, about six inches square, which are then daubed at one another in the wildest kind of fury, their eyes gleaming with ferociousness and anger, while the tails of the saurians threshed the water into white foam in the wild sweeps at their foes. The crumpling of bones, the tearing, rending, and gnawing of flesh, the sundering of bones and raw meat from the wounded gators all combined to render the combat most exciting. The sharks seemed to be fully aware of the folly of trying to cut through the thick, mud-like entrails of their opponents, and, like valiant gladiators, they fought with their tails high, sixty feet wide and sixty feet high at the ridge pole, built on the sun-pan as the dwelling, but intended as a place of meeting, especially for the "old men" who rule each community.

They were valiantly fighting and issue all ordinances for the government of the people. If their decisions and ordinances happen to meet with the approval of a majority of those interested they are adopted. If they don't last longer for are promulgated the next day or so until the matter is settled or dropped.—Say's American Encyclopedie.

Queer Dwelling Houses.

The Gilbert Islander does not generally care to have any sides to his dwelling.

He sets up four corner posts, about six inches square, which are then daubed at one another in the wildest kind of fury, their eyes gleaming with ferociousness and anger, while the tails of the saurians threshed the water into white foam in the wild sweeps at their foes. The crumpling of bones, the tearing, rending, and gnawing of flesh, the sundering of bones and raw meat from the wounded gators all combined to render the combat most exciting. The sharks seemed to be fully aware of the folly of trying to cut through the thick, mud-like entrails of their opponents, and, like valiant gladiators, they fought with their tails high, sixty feet wide and sixty feet high at the ridge pole, built on the sun-pan as the dwelling, but intended as a place of meeting, especially for the "old men" who rule each community.

They were valiantly fighting and issue all ordinances for the government of the people. If their decisions and ordinances happen to meet with the approval of a majority of those interested they are adopted. If they don't last longer for are promulgated the next day or so until the matter is settled or dropped.—Say's American Encyclopedie.

Queer Dwelling Houses.

The Gilbert Islander does not generally care to have any sides to his dwelling.

He sets up four corner posts, about six inches square, which are then daubed at one another in the wildest kind of fury, their eyes gleaming with ferociousness and anger, while the tails of the saurians threshed the water into white foam in the wild sweeps at their foes. The crumpling of bones, the tearing, rending, and gnawing of flesh, the sundering of bones and raw meat from the wounded gators all combined to render the combat most exciting. The sharks seemed to be fully aware of the folly of trying to cut through the thick, mud-like entrails of their opponents, and, like valiant gladiators, they fought with their tails high, sixty feet wide and sixty feet high at the ridge pole, built on the sun-pan as the dwelling, but intended as a place of meeting, especially for the "old men" who rule each community.

They were valiantly fighting and issue all ordinances for the government of the people. If their decisions and ordinances happen to meet with the approval of a majority of those interested they are adopted. If they don't last longer for are promulgated the next day or so until the matter is settled or dropped.—Say's American Encyclopedie.

Queer Dwelling Houses.

The Gilbert Islander does not generally care to have any sides to his dwelling.

He sets up four corner posts, about six inches square, which are then daubed at one another in the wildest kind of fury, their eyes gleaming with ferociousness and anger, while the tails of the saurians threshed the water into white foam in the wild sweeps at their foes. The crumpling of bones, the tearing, rending, and gnawing of flesh, the sundering of bones and raw meat from the wounded gators all combined to render the combat most exciting. The sharks seemed to be fully aware of the folly of trying to cut through the thick, mud-like entrails of their opponents, and, like valiant gladiators, they fought with their tails high, sixty feet wide and sixty feet high at the ridge pole, built on the sun-pan as the dwelling, but intended as a place of meeting, especially for the "old men" who rule each community.

They were valiantly fighting and issue all ordinances for the government of the people. If their decisions and ordinances happen to meet with the approval of a majority of those interested they are adopted. If they don't last longer for are promulgated the next day or so until the matter is settled or dropped.—Say's American Encyclopedie.

Queer Dwelling Houses.

The Gilbert Islander does not generally care to have any sides to his dwelling.

He sets up four corner posts, about six inches square, which are then daubed at one another in the wildest kind of fury, their eyes gleaming with ferociousness and anger, while the tails of the saurians threshed the water into white foam in the wild sweeps at their foes. The crumpling of bones, the tearing, rending, and gnawing of flesh, the sundering of bones and raw meat from the wounded gators all combined to render the combat most exciting. The sharks seemed to be fully aware of the folly of trying to cut through the thick, mud-like entrails of their opponents, and, like valiant gladiators, they fought with their tails high, sixty feet wide and sixty feet high at the ridge pole, built on the sun-pan as the dwelling, but intended as a place of meeting, especially for the "old men" who rule each community.

They were valiantly fighting and issue all ordinances for the government of the people. If their decisions and ordinances happen to meet with the approval of a majority of those interested they are adopted. If they don't last longer for are promulgated the next day or so until the matter is settled or dropped.—Say's American Encyclopedie.

Queer Dwelling Houses.

The Gilbert Islander does not generally care to have any sides to his dwelling.

He sets up four corner posts, about six inches square, which are then daubed at one another in the wildest kind of fury, their eyes gleaming with ferociousness and anger, while the tails of the saurians threshed the water into white foam in the wild sweeps at their foes. The crumpling of bones, the tearing, rending, and gnawing of flesh, the sundering of bones and raw meat from the wounded gators all combined to render the combat most exciting. The sharks seemed to be fully aware of the folly of trying to cut through the thick, mud-like entrails of their opponents, and, like valiant gladiators, they fought with their tails high, sixty feet wide and sixty feet high at the ridge pole, built on the sun-pan as the dwelling, but intended as a place of meeting, especially for the "old men" who rule each community.